Continuation of 2. NOTE: Amendments to claim 1, "... a pressing portion which is substantially perpendicular to said base portion and extends from said base portion toward said ink absorbing member", claim 14, "... said container body divided into ... discrete areas by wall" raise new issues of definition and defiteness over the prior art of record.

Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: claim 32, even though the projections are attached to the lid (22), they suspend from the lid (22) and thus are between the lid (22) and the ink absorbing member (24).
